About the Safety Camp:

Why is safety culture in medicine a growing challenge in the face of increasingly effective treatments?

Leading representatives from medicine, politics and business will meet in Augsburg to discuss safety culture in healthcare, exchange best practices and develop innovative solutions. The congress offers a platform for excellent keynotes, interdisciplinary exchange, networking and groundbreaking impulses for the sustainable improvement of patient safety on an international level.

'For more safety in medicine - together with politics and business. That is our mission'.

Prof. Dr. Klaus Markstaller, Medical Director
Universitätsklinikum Augsburg
